#عدن_الغد

A high-angle photograph of a large outdoor cemetery in Jerusalem. The tombs are arranged in a dense, grid-like pattern across a sandy area. Each tomb is a low, rectangular structure, often painted in bright colors like red, blue, and white. Some tombs have small, simple structures on top, possibly for存放遗骸. To the left, there is a small, light-colored stone building with a few steps leading up to it. In the background, a dark, solid wall runs across the top of the frame. The overall scene is one of a well-maintained but densely packed burial ground.
